PLANT THIS FALL

CONDITIONS have not been so favorable for fall planting for many years and we issue this price list because of the flood of requests we have had for trees from our customers wishing to order early for fall planting. Our prices have been reduced to a minimum to encourage fall planting. Because of short crops of fruit and the great reduction in the planting of fruit trees the last few years you can bank on fruit-growing being many times more profitable than ordinary farming. Plant fruits for profit and bring your trees and plants into bearing earlier by planting this fall. The early orders get the stock at the low prices we quote for selected trees of known performance record.

Rail Strike Settled

Better Times Coming for Fruit Grower and Farmer

The settling of the proposed rail strike has been a great boost to fruit growers and farmers because it will mean a substantial reduction in transportation. Let's put two and two together and look into the future.

First consider that in the past four years few new orchards have been planted in any district in this fine country of ours, because the nurseryman has produced less than one-fourth as many fruit trees as in the years previous to 1917.

Good, Clean, Thrifty Apple Trees in the Nursery Rows.

Today the nurserymen of the country could not supply one-half the old-time demand. This scarcity of fruit trees has already been reflected in high prices for fruit and fruit growing the next ten or fifteen years is going to be one of the most lucrative businesses. Here are the statistics and actual figures on the principal apple orchards in one county of northern Arkansas:

NAME.	Acres.	Total Sales.	Cost of Production.	Net Profit.
Rothcock, I. R.	135	$45,000.00	$14,000.00	$31,000.00
Holcomb, Calvin	30	9,879.00	3,500.00	6,379.00
Brogdon, H. H.	100	20,500.00	7,000.00	13,500.00
Taylor, Frank	24	6,300.00	2,840.00	3,460.00
Powell & Webber	22	11,500.00	2,500.00	9,000.00
Marks & Hinckley	135	70,000.00	23,372.00	46,628.00
Glass, A. H.	20	5,845.00	1,500.00	4,345.00
Graham, R. B. & J. O.	175	64,000.00	21,950.00	42,050.00
Brogdon, W. B.	70	46,066.20	17,061.17	29,005.03
Hough, P. H.	65	9,750.00	3,100.00	6,650.00

These figures can be verified and prove conclusively that fruit growing is almost as good as having a gold mine, whether in the back yard orchard or in the Commercial Orchard. If fruit trees cost ten times as much as our present reduced prices, we would still advise you to plant.

If you plant fruit trees, plant our Pedigreed Trees, that have been bred up for early bearing (quicker returns) high quality of fruit and big yields. PLANT THIS FALL. ORDER NOW. Now is the time to get in the game for big profits. Write us for special prices in quantity and book your order before we are sold out.
